MERIDIAN LIBRARY

It was a cold, clear winter day and the temperature was 10* above zero. Fifteen Occident Club members and one guest dawned winter attire and attended the warm and friendly meeting at the Library.

President Gladys called the meeting to order at approximately 1:30 PM.

We saluted the flag and the collect was read in unison.

Gladys read an inspirational poem "The Blessings of Service".

Gladys welcomed Betty Kusler. Marguerite Patch presented the program. The program she had scheduled was canceled this morning. She called Betty who graciously agreed to present the program. Betty had taken a trip with 'The Boise Gems', a senior group. Betty in her most eloquent style wrote a poem to fit her pictures. She titled it "The Rockies In Rhyme". Her pictures 'The call of the Rockies' were beautiful and her accompanying poetry was outstanding. After our long winter inside we all enjoyed the trip into the mountains with Betty.

After Betty's program Nettie told about the deer and elk coming down into the valley seeking food. Our winter is truly severe.
